Summary:

International Military Students (IMS) on "A", or "G", visas are no longer eligible to receive a U.S. state driver's license because they may be eligible for diplomatic privileges and immunities. In order for an IMS to apply for a U.S. state driver's license, the IMS must have a "Non-Eligibility Letter" issued by the U.S. Department of State, Office of Foreign Mission stating that the individual is not entitled to diplomatic privileges and immunities.

Department of State has changed their policy concerning "Non-Eligibility" letters for NATO visa holders and NATO IMS will be processed through existing issuance policies and procedures. This change becomes effective immediately.

IMS presenting an out of country driver license must pass all examinations with the exception of those listed below.

France	Reciprocate all exams
Canada	Reciprocate all exams (if customer surrenders Canadian DL)
Germany	Reciprocate skill test only (customer must take written exams)
